

Lets Marshall Kernochan Use $12,000 a Year

Composer of Songs Gets Favorable Ruling on Application That Was Previously Refused in Court From His Aunt's Estate

Allowance to Come Out of Funds of an Incompetent Worth $4,000,000

Marshall Kernochan, member of several clubs, succeeded upon his second effort in the Supreme Court yesterday in obtaining an award of $12,000 a year from the $4,000,000 estate of his incompetent aunt, Miss Marie Marshall. Mr. Kernochan, forty years old, a cousin of Chief Justice Frederick Kernochan of the Court of Special Sessions, lives at Tuxedo Park with his wife and child and four servants. He bought the property for $45,000, of which he paid $25,000 in cash. Mr. Kernochan's mother, now Mrs. Louise A. Pollock, has been allowing her son $1,000 a month, but for several years Mrs. Pollock has been spending from her $1,000,000 estate more than her income and no longer can afford to make the monthly allowance to Mr. Kernochan.

The application of Mr. Kernochan was considered in connection with the accounting of the committee of the property of Miss Marshall. James Dunn, the referee, recommended that the allowance be made, and Justice Whitaker yesterday approved the referee's report.

Cohalan's Views

In 1914 Mr. Kernochan made a similar application, saying that if he received the allowance, he could marry a young woman of his choice, advance his musical activities and also maintain his social position. Justice Cohalan denied that application, mentioning that Mr. Kernochan was only eight years old when Miss Marshall became insane. The justice wrote:

"The incompetent is under no duty to maintain the petitioner in his 'social standing' or to enable him to reach a 'station in life.' He is of full age, of ripe experience, sound mind and no disability. I do not consider the increase of musical renown as the substantial object of this application."

Mr. Kernochan receives, besides the allowance, his mother has been making him, $3,000 a year from the estate of his father and $100 a month for services rendered his aunt, Mrs. Martha M. Wysock, who has property valued at $2,550,000.

Frederick W. Bisgood, appointed by the court as special guardian for Miss Marshall in the accounting proceeding, also filed a report with the court in which he did not approve or disapprove the application of Mr. Kernochan. He did mention that the composer devotes five hours a day to his musical efforts, which have brought him $200 a year to date. Mr. Bisgood said that Mr. Kernochan had composed several songs and choruses, and that he was at work on an oratorio. His work, said Mr. Bisgood, is declared to be of a very high order and no doubt "will enrich the field of American music."

"Accustomed to Luxury"

Regarding Mrs. Pollock, mother of the composer, Mr. Bisgood said that he was "at first inclined to regard the improvidence of Mrs. Pollock with little sympathy, and to take the position that she could afford her generosity to her son if disposed to limit her own extravagance." He added: "However, Mrs. Pollock is a lady sixty-nine years old. She has been accustomed to every luxury throughout life, and her estate, even at its present rate of encroachment upon principal, will probably last a lifetime. Her home in New York City is worth $250,000, of which the equity amounts to $25,000 and her summer residence at Pittsfield, Mass., is valued at $60,000. Her property is for a large part unproductive, and the allowance which she makes her son is a real burden."

Mrs. Pollock receives from her $1,000,000 estate an income of from $25,000 to $30,000 a year. In 1918, she spent in excess of her income, $2,500; in 1919, $25,000 and $40,000 more in 1920. The income last year from the estate of Miss Marshall amounted to $16,000 more than the expenses of $24,000.

Smoot Denies Any Plan to Cut Pay of Soldiers' Doctors

Senator Says Public Health Service Has Been Overstepping Mark With Regard to Retirements

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau. WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Senator Smoot, of Utah, in a statement on the floor of the Senate today, took up the protests which are being sent to Washington in large numbers by veterans and their friends to the effect that medical reserve officers in the public health service hospitals or hospitals where veterans are being treated are to be replaced by civilians or are themselves to be put on a civilian basis.

Senator Smoot said there had never been a proposal to take the medical reserve officers out of the places they now hold or to cut their pay. The plan was only to change them to a civilian status. Smoot criticized the Public Health Service severely.

The Utah Senator said he was prompted to speak because of a dispatch from New York published today that President Harding had sent assurances there that no orders pacing service physicians on a civilian basis were contemplated.

"The Public Health Service even went so far, contrary to law, as to give longevity pay to nurses and administrative assistants," said the Senator. "If something had not been done to stop it we would have had thousands and thousands of women nurses upon the retired list very soon and administrative assistants who do nothing but clerical work would have become retired officers."

The Senator went on to say there had been no intention to reduce pay, but there had been one "to take out of the pay of aping the army and navy in everything."

Senator Smoot, pointing to the fact there was much "propaganda" being sent to Senators about the matter, said he had a letter from President A. C. Weaver of the Reserve Officers' Association, Public Health Service, saying that medical men, in order to develop the best in them, must be free from all "worries" and "uncertainties."

"In other words," went on Senator Smoot, "they will not do any work at all unless we say we will take care of them forever."

He added:

"If the Public Health Service doesn't correct the evils that are there, away the robbery that has been going on and the looting of the Treasury, something is going to happen to that organization that will make it come to its senses and carry out the plans with reference to it that Congress intended."

League of Artists Acts To Protect Profession

High Charges for Materials and Thefts of Product Among Evils Complained of

Efforts to learn the nature of conditions confronting the artist profession with a view to providing greater protection for its members, were begun yesterday when the League of New York Artists sent out a questionnaire to painters, sculptors and other graphic artists.

The printed paper incorporates fourteen queries. They seek to know whether the artist has ever had pictures or other works of art stolen by fictitious dealers; whether they are experiencing difficulty in collecting insurance on damage cases, and whether exorbitant sums of money are being charged for artists' materials. The artist is asked also whether he would be willing to support a movement to throw trade into the hands of manufacturers who treated the artist most favorably. And would he be willing to join with the league in placing an order to buy materials abroad in quantity, and therefore much cheaper?

"It is a well known fact that for a long time artists have been paying exorbitant prices for materials," said Julian Bowes, managing secretary of the league. "It is also a matter for serious investigation," he continued, "whether materials sold to artists are really the materials advertised. Our technical bureau is working on the chemistry of paints and will have some interesting facts to present in the near future."

He said also that there had been numerous complaints from artists of the thefts of pictures and small sculpture, and that it was the purpose of the questionnaire to learn the extent and source of these conditions affecting artists that proper measures might be taken to correct them.

Woman Captures Hold-Up Man Who Stabbed Husband

Chases Him Up Stairs From Subway to Street; Holds Him Until Policeman Arrives; Praised by Court

Mrs. Alice Weller, of 2156 Webster Avenue, the Bronx, yesterday tackled an alleged hold-up man, armed with a knife, and then held him until Patrolman Morris H. Glennon, of the Mercer Street station, came to her assistance and took the man prisoner. The incident occurred in East Fourteenth Street, near the Lexington Avenue subway station, after the man had stabbed her husband.

In Essex Market Court Magistrate Max S. Levine warmly praised Mrs. Weller for her courage and prompt action.

The prisoner gave his name as Raymond Partello, twenty years old, a Spaniard, living at the Sailors' Home, 25 South Street. According to the story told in court, Mrs. Weller and her husband, who is paymaster of the General Electric Company, were traveling in the subway, when the latter became ill. They left the train at the fourteenth street station, and Weller went into the washroom while his wife waited on the platform.

While in the washroom, it is alleged, Partello drew a knife and ordered Weller to put up his hands or he would be killed. The latter, despite his sickness, put up a fight and was stabbed in the neck. Partello then rushed on the platform, with Weller after him. As soon as Mrs. Weller started the chase after Partello, she was a sharp calmer after her: "Look out, Alice. He's got a knife. Keep away!"

Unhappily, Mrs. Weller followed the Spaniard up the stairs, overtook him on the street and then grappled with him. She held him until the policeman arrived. Partello was held in $5,000 bail for examination Monday on a charge of attempted robbery.

Three Postoffice Officials Ousted Because of Hold-Up

Superintendents, Suspended After $2,000,000 Robbery, Will Not Be Reinstated; May Apply for Minor Posts

The three New York postoffice superintendents who were suspended early in November pending an investigation into alleged neglect of duty on their part in connection with the Broadway mail robbery were informed yesterday that they will not be reinstated in their former positions, but will be given minor offices upon application. The offer was made at the conclusion of a two-month study of the working of their departments under the supervision of Postmaster Edward Morgan and Chief Inspector Cochran.

Each of the new positions carries a salary of about $2,500. Elijah M. Norris, formerly received $4,400 as superintendent of mails, and Henry Lipmann and Walter S. Mayer $4,000 each as superintendents of registry and money orders, respectively. All three have been in the postoffice service for nearly forty years. They will have until Wednesday to decide whether or not they will continue work at the reduced compensation.

At the time of their suspension by order of Dr. Hubert Work, First Assistant Postmaster General, the latter declared that the robbery could have been prevented by full observance of obviously proper precautions prescribed by the department rules.

"There has always been a no-man's land in the New York Postoffice," said, "in which no one assumes responsibility. This $2,000,000 holdup has revealed absolutely inexcusable dereliction of duty in the mail service here."

Recommendations to fill the vacancies created by the removal of the three superintendents will be forwarded to Washington in the near future, it was announced at the postoffice yesterday.

Long Island Man Is Killed By Train Near Stamford

STAMFORD, Conn., Jan. 7.—Charles F. Oddie, forty-eight years old, a drug importer of Brightwaters, L. I., was killed today when he was hit by a train of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. The accident occurred several hundred feet east of the Riverside station.

Mr. Oddie had been staying with his sister, Mrs. Charles W. Parsons, and had taken her to the station to see the train for New York. It is believed that he was taking a short cut across the tracks to go to Jones Park when he was hit. He is survived by his wife.

Two More in Federal Service
